BOYS IN TUBERCULOSIS FIGHT

Money from Play by Columbia Youths Goes to Disease Prevention.

A club of Columbia boys organized to make money to go toward the prevention of tuberculosis gave a vaudeville performance yesterday at the home of Clifford Brown, one of the members. There was a real drop curtain with a large frog and a huge dragon painted on it. At the side of the stage were posters with letters showing which act was in progress. The theater was lighted by electricity and was darkened during the acts just as in a large theater. The admission to the play was five cents.

The club gives plays for the benefit of the tuberculosis fund, taking in from $1.50 to $3 at each performance. The members of the club are Clifford Brown, Frank Belden, Lawrence Belden, Clarence Moss, Philip Stephens, Charles Eckles and Lawrence Babb.

The following program was given: School Show, Mechanical Wonders, Aunt Betsey, Two Tramps, Dude Show, Making a Show, Post-Card Reflector, Three Robbers, Jig, Ghosts, A Troublesome Hat, The Dancers.

In a professional manner the actors added a note of the program, thanking the audience for kind patronage and asking them to call again.

"A GREAT COACH," SAYS RUNYAN

Former M. U. Student Congratulates Missouri on Choosing Schulte.

President Hill has received a letter from Justice A. Runyan, a former student of the University of Missouri, several years industrial agent of the Commercial Club at Kansas City and now secretary of the Bay City, Mich., Board of Commerce. He says:

"I am glad to see that Missouri has employed Henry F. Schulte of the University of Michigan as assistant coach to Mr. Brewer. I think you have made a ten-strike in securing Mr. Schulte's services. Michigan, I know, is sorry to see him leave, and if what I hear about him is true, he will make a great assistant coach. Everybody in Michigan pulls for Schulte."

FINE TRIP BUT NO GAMES

Columbia High School Team Didn't Win But Wasn't Defeated.

The Columbia High School basketball team returned yesterday from its trip without having played any games. When the team arrived at Moberly the game with Moberly High School was canceled. As the team did not arrive at Mexico in time for the game with The Missouri Military Academy was forfeited.

"ROSES ARE RED" STILL IS POPULAR

TO SUIT ANY TASTE"But Machine Made Sonnets Are Not Poetry," Says Dr. Fairchild.

If the soul of the martyred Saint Valentine can read the lines of maudlin sentiment sent in his name it must feel that his martyrdom was more for evil than for good. The mere fact that the birds were mating when he died suggested to some poet's mind to commemorate the good saint by making that day a lovers' day forever.

Then a poetic desire to write a sonnet or two of love to any beautiful girl that struck one's fancy could be gratified without offense. At first only poets took advantage of their opportunity and things were not so bad.

But, alas, poetry became commercialized. The poets wrote songs ending in the words "my Valentine" and found an immense demand for their goods among persons who could not write poetry but who wanted to be sentimental anyway.

Says It Is Not Poetry. Dr. A. H. R. Fairchild says that most of the songs and verses are not poetry at all. The senders think that anything rhyming at the ends of the lines is poetry.

The demand grew so much greater than the poets' supply that something else is making the "poetry" now. Whether there is some kind of machine for manufacturing it or whether it is done by shrewd business men is not known. At any rate the output is of such varied nature as to suit almost anyone.

Some persons are buying gaudy cards in great numbers with the following apt verse scattered about in red letters among hearts and arrows:

Startlingly Frank.

"I'd tell my love to you myself If I were not so stupid. So if you will not mind it dear, I'll send it by Dan Cupid."

In sending verses the fashion now is for the sender to tell the nature of his weakness. Stupidity is the most common and next to it is the tendency to weep. The following tearful threat has been second in popularity among the local sentimentalists:

"I'll weep a salty sea of tears And sail away across the brine And there remain for years and years"

If you won't be my Valentine." Then there are many who do not know the nature of their faults and send this:

"My heart just goes a bumping When I see you pass along. I don't know what's the matter But I'm sure there's something wrong."

Pork-and-Beans Poet Speaks Up.

On first consulting the sale records it would seem that there are a great many adherents to the "Nickel-a-day" plan of life. But it is more probable that one individual is making a desperate attempt to procure a mate. Anyhow someone is buying large numbers of expensive little booklets containing this:

"If you could live on Pork and Beans"

And not turn up your nose at greens Not quite despise me in my jeans, I might, yes, might some sweet old time

Ask you to be my Valentine." Many are sending out a little blue picture folder with this plea:

"Please be my Valentine. You and I are just a pair of kids. So we might as well go through life Hand in Hand."

This is a problem for the logicians. The saleslady says that most of these have been sold to elderly girls wearing glasses—probably those indomitable ones who are still hopeful.

TWO GIRLS, 13 AND 14, RUN AWAY

Detained by Police in Moberly and Sent Back to Parents.

Arlee Crosswaite and Susan Zeyen, girls 13 and 14 years old, started to run away to Chicago with their belongings, consisting of a curling iron, some face powder and some jewelry, in a flour sack. They walked to Browns Station and from there to Centralia on the Wabash.

Conductor L. E. Hill suspected that they were running away. They bought tickets to Moberly and Mr. Hill asked a salesman to watch them when they arrived there. He had them detained by the police until they told who they were. They were sent back to their parents.

WITH THE SORORITY MEMBERS

Dances Come Now Following the Week of Examinations.

The freshmen of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority will give a dance Valentine night in honor of the upperclass members.

Miss Agnes Moses, of the University of Kansas, is the guest of Miss Geneva Campbell at the Kappa house.

The Delta Gammas gave an informal dance last night. This afternoon they will keep open house and Tuesday night will give a formal Valentine dance.

Miss Agnes Peters of Kansas City is visiting Miss Marguerite McGowan. Miss Mildred Berly of Sedalia is a guest at the Delta Gamma house.

Mrs. H. F. Jones of Kansas City is visiting her daughter, Miss Dorothy Jones.

Miss Mary Louise Boles of Sedalia is the guest of Miss Sarah McLaughlin. Miss McLaughlin will also have as her guest her sister, Mrs. John McLaughlin.

The members of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority will give a matinee dance for their freshmen Monday. Wednesday night they will give a banquet at the Virginia Grill to celebrate the fourth anniversary of the founding of the chapter.

Mrs. Spence Redmond of Platte City is visiting her daughter, Miss Dorothy Redmond.

Miss Jessie Rathel of Kansas City is visiting the Pi Beta Phi house.

Miss Gladys Jones, an Alpha Phi pledge, will arrive in Columbia today to attend the University the second semester.

The Alpha Pids will give a formal dance Thursday night.

MEDICINE PEDDLER IS FINED

H. L. Meredith Didn't Know It Was Necessary to Have a License.

H. L. Meredith pleaded guilty to a charge of peddling medicine without a license in Judge James Stockton's court yesterday morning. He was fined $10 and costs. Meredith had been working for a patent medicine firm. He said that he didn't know that it was necessary to have a license to sell medicine in Boone County.

Sterling Spoon Good After 25 Years.

The Missourian last Monday told of a souvenir spoon of the old University building, found in a scrap heap.

It was marked "Sterling" on the back.

It was bright and good as new, not tarnished and black as plated ware would be.

That's one reason why you should buy sterling for your own use. It's silverware your grandchildren will be proud to use.
